Research & Compilation by Tim Castelli

1. PROJECT OVERVIEW

For an article on Singletons, an unscripted single-point conversion by run or pass in the NFL occurring between 1950-1993, I compiled this dataset of all occurrences.

2. METHODOLOGY & SCOPE

- Scope: NFL regular season and playoff games from the 1950 - 1993 seasons. Excludes AFL seasons of 1960-1969.
- Additional sources: Newspaper articles, box scores, gamebooks, film review, and media guides.
- Pro Football Reference's databases were used to extract detailed NFL touchdown data for the 1950-1993 seasons in February 2025 and compile specific scoring-play totals in August 2026. Because these historical records are continuously updated, the numbers may slightly fluctuate over time.

3. DATA DICTIONARY

- Singleton Listing: Chronological list of all identified singletons in NFL (excluding AFL) from the 1950 to 1993 seasons.
- Stadium Surfaces: Calculation of the approximate percentage of total games that occurred on artificial turf and natural grass and the corresponding actual and expected singletons for each surface.
- Used the following site, plus Wikipedia and others sources for stadium data. <https://boards.sportslogos.net/topic/122258-artificial-turf-timeline/>

* Note: Percentage of games on artificial turf is approximate. Calculations are based on full seasons, although some teams changed stadiums or playing surfaces during a season. A small number of games were also played at neutral or alternate sites, and seasons with an odd number of games prevent an exact home/away split.

Expected singletons are weighted by the number of singletons and estimated share of games played on each surface for each season, accounting for changes in the ratio of stadium surfaces over time.

NFL Stadium & Playing Surfaces, 1950-1993

Note: 8 teams never had artificial turf from 1950-1993: Cleveland, Denver, Green Bay, Los Angeles Rams, Oakland / LA Raiders, San Diego, Tampa Bay, Washington.
